If Rose Kennedy, the devout daily communicant, was bewildered by Leonard Bernstein's concept of the Roman Catholic Mass she covered her true emotions with customary courage. One of her daughters, Mrs. Sargent Shriver, flipped over the mass; said it was just great, and that it's high time some layman got around to giving the ritual a new thrust—after all the meddling the bishops have done with it since Christ's first one.

The first conversion was ordered by President Truman, who named it "Lenore," for reasons not immediately obtainable. It replaced the yacht he and FDR and other presidents had used, the "Williamsburg," and Mr. Truman asked the converters to be sure that the dining salon chairs be the sturdiest that could be found. Seems that one of the chairs on the "Williamsburg" had collapsed under the weight of one of Mr. Truman's guests, Sir Winston Churchilll, right in the middle of a surge of florid rhetoric.

Legislators Get Another Salary Hike

Gov. Francis W. Sargent yesterday signed into law legislation increasing the salaries of the House and Senate chairmen of the committee on government regulations.

As a result of the new law, Sen. Charles V. Hogan (D-Lynn) and Rep. William Q. MacLean (D-Fairhaven) will receive pay raises of $3,800.

The base pay of legislators is $11,400. However, recent practice has had the legislature grant additional compensation to the chairmen of both the House and Senate ways and means committees, the committe on taxation, and the committe on counties.

In addition, the House speaker gets double the pay of legislators, while the minority leader, and the assistant legislative leaders of both the speaker and the minority leader receive additional compensation.

.C. Case Faces Highest Test

Court to Review Abort

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court, in a case that could produce a landmark decision, agreed Monday to examine the constitutionality of the District of Columbia's abortion law.

The court will schedule arguments next fall on an appeal by the Justice Dept. from a ruling last Nov. 10 by U. S. District Judge Gerhard A. Gesell striking down the district's 69-year-old criminal statute against illegal abortion. The case will be decided by writen opinion of the high court.

Gesell dismissed an indictment of Dr. Milan Vuitch, a Yugoslav immigrant who has been crusading for more liberal abortion policies.

Many states have laws similar to the district's, which bars an abortion except when "necessary for the preservation of the mother's life or health."

The American Civil Liberties Union and other abortion law activists have participated in recent stepped-up efforts to liberalize abortion laws. The most liberal one went into effect March 11 in Hawaii.

A number of state legislatures have pending bills similar to the one enacted in Hawaii. Others have liberalized their criminal codes to a leser extent since Colorado did so in 1967.

judge Federal Court in Mil-

On March 6, a special three-waukee struck down part of Wisconsin's abortion statute. Lawsuits are pending in New York and New Jersey. More are planned.

The ACLU, feminist groups and others argue that an abortions is a matter solely between a woman and her physician. They say that the laws discriminate against the poor.

Earlier this term, the Supreme Court refused to review a state court decision in California striking down the law in that state.

District Judge Gesell's opinion in the Washington case said the clause "necessary for the preservation of the mother's life or health" is so vague that a person accused of violating it cannot properly defend himself. He said it also places on the defendant the burden or proving that he made the right medical judgment.

The Justice Dept. appealed on the ground that Gesell should not have thrown out the case before trial but should have applied the law to the specific circumstances of Vuitch's case. The department added that the doctor's medical judgment is not always an issue because physicians sometimes perform abortions after doing nothing more than establishing the fact of pregnancy.

T.D. KENNEDY

SHOOTS SHIT

Kenneth P. O'Donnell, at a press conference Wednesday, became the first of the gubernatorial candidates to announce specifically what his campaign strategy will be, both for the September primary and, if successful in that political war, the November election.

Although regarded as a liberal, progressive leader, one who gave himself the label "the anti-establishment candidate," O'Donnell has chosen a traditional theme of party versus party, Democrat against Republican, as the foundation of his strategy.

MORON

KENNEDY'S STOOGE

KENNETH P. O'DONNELL

O'Donnell doesn't say that the Democrats need revitalizing, only an attractive candidate that can win. He says the lack of desirable options in the past has forfeited victory to the Republicans.

And, of course he identifies himself as the only contending Democrat who can tip over Gov. Francis W. Sargent come election day.

Republican control of government doesn't work in the executive branch of a state in which the legislature is overwhelmingly Democratic, says O'Donnell. And this is not because the legislature becomes obstructionist, he adds.

O'Donnell contends that, historically, his party, has led the way for all liberal and progressive programs, and that the Republicans have conceded their support only when forced to do so.

He considers Sargent highly vulnerable because of lack of accomplishment. He denounces him as an "Autumn liberal," indicating that the governor comes in with late support for programs only after they have been proven popular.

O'Donnell intends to "make Sargent a Republican, a Nixon Republican, a man who carries out Republican policy." LAST TIME I RAZZED

He says Sargent, in the spirit of the regime of former Gov. John A. Volpe, blames resistance from the Democratic legislature for failure to get things done. Behind the O'Donnell strategy is his conviction that the majority of Bay Staters prefer to vote Democratic; that the 40 percent of the voters who are registered Democrats represent a decisive base for any Demorcatic candidate of; that a majority of the voters who regard them-

Nixon Says Cambodia Neutrality Vital to U.S.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The White House said Monday that the United States has "an overriding interest" in preserving the Cambodian neutrality because of the effects a Communist takeover would have on the U. S. war effort in South Vietnam.

Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said: "The President is deeply concerned about the course of events in Cambodia and is closely following developments."

He said Nixon wanted to preserve the territorial integrity of Cambodia and viewed with concern violations of Cambodian territory by North Vietnamese troops in "Blatant disregard" of the 1954 Geneva Accords.

The White House statement followed one Friday by Ziegler characterizing the Communist force in Cambodia as a "foreign invasion."

EDGARTOWN — "Is he going to be here?" GUN

From noon until long after dark yesterday that was the question being asked by nearly everybody in this beautiful port.

They were asking about the best-known yachtsman in our waters and, to a man, they sincerely hope Sen. Edward M. Kennedy will be competing in the 47th annual regatta under the burgee of the Edgartown Yacht Club. The East Coast's best regatta gets underway at noon today.

There always has been tremendous interest in Kennedy participation. The older members of the family, particularly the late Joseph Jr. and the late President, came here in Victura to do well in the Wianno Senior Class, sort of the flagship fleet of the One design racing classes in Southern Massachusetts waters. CRAZY LIKE

With the exception of two years ago, soon after the death of Sen. Robert Kennedy, Ted has been racing here and has enjoyed great sucess.

Last year the senator finished ninth in the huge fleet. Later that night came the tragedy of Chappaquidick and if Kennedy prefers to avoid the scene of a nightmare, most people will understand.

But the feeling around the yacht club yesterday was that the youthful senator belongs here.

Last night, Ralph Martin, secretary of the Race Committee, had a large list of entries for the Wianno Class. Victura was not listed among them.

"Entries are closed," Ralph said. "but if the Senator shows up today, he certainly will be welcome.

There have been several questions about the entries for this great show. They have worried about the cruising boats. Rightly so. The fleet figured to be smaller. The New York Yacht Club cruise rendezvoused at Newport at evening colors. Many of the great racing yachts will be there. Supposedly it's the East Coasts' banner event.

"But here's the way it is," Martin said. "In 1969 we had 82 yachts in the Cruising classes, the Edgartown rule division and the Midget Ocean racing fleet. That was an all-time high for us. Right this moment we have 90 entries in those divisions as well as all the One design classes."

The lure of Edgartown is greater than ever.

The Administration has, in fact, the tools to protect the American industry and to assist it to become viable and competitive. The greatest hope lies in persuading President Nixon to act now with the means already at hand.

PART TIME MAYOR MORON

GOOD MAN

Gov. Sargent and Boston Mayor White locked horns before a legislative committee yesterday over White's proposal to eliminate the need for state approval of the planned $260 million Park Plaza urban renewal project.

The White proposal, Sargent warned the joint Committee on Local Affairs, would give the Boston Redevelopment Authority a license to grab any piece of property in the city without having to account to higher authority.

He termed the measure a "step backward" in urban renewal.

White criticized the Sargent administration and State Dept. of Community Affairs Commr. Miles Mahoney for having vetoed the Park Plaza plan earlier. He said community groups favored the project and that it would be protected with adequate safeguards against abuses.

"Boston is no longer a crippled city," the mayor told the committee, "but it is lacking in federal funds. The company involved in the project put up a million dollar bond and there was nothing devious about the plan.

At the University of Miami, her staff was unable to find the political science class she was to address. They stumbled into a geography class with 29 students, and the young instructor prevailed on her to stay and talk for 15 minutes. Then she found the proper class of 100 students presided over by a Mr. Scheckerman.

Later, outside the Student Union, she drew a mere 200 students where two weeks earlier Muskie had attracted 1,000. It developed that most of the students happened on her quite by accident; there hadn't been a single poster or advertisement in the campus newspaper insists they admire her for it. "One of the members of the Black Caucus described me to one newsman this way," she says: "'Shirley Chisholm is a pain in the ass. But she's a delightful pain in the ass.'"

Still, on the stump, Shirley Chisholm spends less time talking issues and most of her time talking Shirley Chisholm.

"They talk about my qualifications," she told more than 2,000 high school students in Miami. "'Shirley,' they say, 'what qualifications do you have to presume to be President of the United States?'

"She's getting the rah-rah treatment," observed Bill Oates, black owner of a prospering restaurant in Tallahassee. "But when it comes to getting out and voting and raising money, everybody'll sit on their behinds."

BLACK MALE ANTIPATHY toward Mrs. Chisholm may well have been heightened by concern that enthusiastic support for a black woman would be taken as proof of the theory that Negroes

The exchange must certainly provide the apex of jurisprudential black humor: Gargan's Good-Soldier - Schweik-like willingness to tell everything keeps reasserting his innocence utterly.

"As parties go," Kennedy himself commented later on, "it was dull." They sand; a few couples danced a little. "It was just . . . just something to give one the chance to talk with those people. As I remember," Kennedy continues, haltingly, "I looked at my watch. I said it was late, 11:15, 11:30. I'd been talking with her ZMary Jo Kopechne). She said she was ready to go."

Kennedy, from out on the patchy little cottage lawn, summoned Jack Crimmins, and informed Crimmins he would be driving himself back, that he would be taking Miss Kopechne, that she wasn't feeling very well, was bothered a little by the sun on the beach that day. SHE WAS ~~PREGNANT~~ PREGNANT because Soviet was supplies to Egypt were shifting the balance of power.

ROGERS was very pleased with the warm welcome he received from the Hungarian communist leaders, including Janos Kadar, the rough party regime played the Secretary's visit in low key and Kadar had nothing to say publicly about it, Rogers felt the Hungarian Red ruler, his foreign minister and other officials were warm in their welcome and he considered the Hungarian visit "highly successful."

Kadar told the Secretary he appreciated his visit, the first an American cabinet minister has made to Hungary since the Communists took over in 1947.

The Secretary explained how President Nixon's foreign policy is aimed at creating an era of negotiation and cooperation with all nations.

He emphasized that while America feels it is necessary for the preservation of world peace that the United States and the Soviet Union get along, it also feels it is very important that "we improve our relations with the smaller countries." Kadar agreed.

THE HUNGARIAN leaders appealed to Rogers to understand the delicacy and difficulty of Hungary's position they referred to the "scars" of the past and the tragic history of Hungary. The greatest mistake their ancestors made, they added, was to locate where they did, between two great powers — Russia and Germany. Kadar also pointed out Hungary's lack of resources and its economic dependence on the Soviet bloc. What he seemed to be saying to the Secretary was "We are very happy you are here, but take into consideration our situation."

Hungary is eager to expand its trade relations with the United States, which have been adversely affected by restrictive barriers on both sides.

The Hungarian leaders took the initiative in proposing a quick settlement of the claims against Hungary for American property, mostly Mobile Oil and Singer interests, expropriated by the Communist regime. The U.S. is claiming approximately $30 million, almost half of the original claim.

IN ADDITION to signing an agreement for exchange of scientific information, the Hungarians agreed to negotiate a cultural agreement in line with President Nixon's policy of promoting freer movement of people and ideas between the Communist-ruled nations and the West.

Vietnam and the Middle East were the main topics of Rogers' talks with Yugoslavian Foreign Minister Mirko Pepavac in Belgrade Saturday. Tito's position on Vietnam is that the United States should just pull out and let the Communists take over.

ON THE MIDDLE EAST, the Secretary urged the Yugoslavian leaders, as he had the Arab officials with whom he conferred in Bahrein and Kuwait, to try to persuade Egypt to enter direct negotiations with Israel. He pointed out to the Arabs and the Yugoslavs, who are very pro-Arab, that everybody is talking to one another these days.

He cited the recent agreement between North and South Korea to explore the possibility of unification and he called attention to the talks between East and West Germany and between the latter and Russia and Poland, all of which have lead to an improvment in relations.

He expressed the conviction that if Egypt would enter into direct talks with Israel, the Arabs might find the Jewish state much more conciliatory about a settlement than they think likely.

DUBROVNIK, Yugoslavia—Secretary of State William P. Rogers told Yugoslav foreign minister Mirko Tepavac yesterday the United States government has some reason to hope a resumption of the Vietnam peace talks in Paris July 13 will lead to "something substantive and encouraging."

He did not go into details. But he did express the belief the war is going to end although he could not say just when and how.

However, he said President Nixon believes China and Russia want to see the Vietnam conflict settled, though it is not clear how much pressure they are bringing on Hanoi to negotiate.

The Secretary also told the Yugoslav that it is now clear the international community as a whole wants to see the Vietnam war end.

While the Yugoslav Communist regime strongly favors the North Vietnamese and opposes the use of American air power to support South Vietnam, the foreign minister refrained from publicly condemning the American bombing in the toast speech he gave at a Saturday night dinner in Belgrade in Rogers' honor.

Tepavac omitted from his speech a protest against the bombing which was included in the prepared draft. He did so in deference to Rogers' wishes.

In the discussion of Vietnam, the foreign minister said he knew that Rogers was aware of the Yugoslav view on Vietnam. He did not specifically critize American policy nor urge the bombing be stopped.

Tepavac told Rogers he had discussed the Vietnamese situation a few days ago with the North Vietnamese ambassador in Belgrade, who gave the impression Hanoi was still standing on its seven-point peace plan, which calls for a coalition government "national accord" in South Vietnam in which the Communists would have a dominant influence.

In the discussion on the Arab-Israel problem, Rodgers said the American government is distressed that the Mideast was the one area of international tension where the disputants were not talking to one another. He cited India and Pakistan, North and South Korea and East and West Germany.

The Secretary was trying to convey the hope that the Yugoslavs, who have good relations with the Arabs might urge Egypt to start dircet talks with Israel.

Tepavac said Yugoslavia was concerned about the supply of arms to the parties in the Middle East. Rogers pointed out that for eight months the U. S. withheld the supply of war planes to Israel and only resumed them because Soviet was supplies to Egypt were shifting the balance of power.

ROGERS was very pleased with the warm welcome he received from the Hungarian communist leaders, including Janos Kadar, the rough party regime played the Secretary's visit in low key and Kadar had nothing to say publicly about it, Rogers felt the Hungarian Red ruler, his foreign minister and other officials were warm in their welcome and he considered the Hungarian visit "highly successful."

LIGONIER, Pa. — Arnold Palmer, elating his hometown fans with an old-fashioned charge, teamed with Jack Nicklaus for a ten-under par 61 yesterday to take a three-stroke first-round lead in the $200,000 National Four-Ball Championship.

The game's two most dynamic stars combined for ten birdies — Palmer 6 and Nicklaus 4 — as they missed the tournament scoring record by just one stroke.

In the four-ball, only team event on the PGA [illegible] and still lives just ten miles away in Latrobe, began the round with an 18-foot birdie putt and Nicklaus finished it with an 18-inch birdie putt.

A morning-long drizzle bothered most of the early starters, but the skies cleared and the sun broke through just as Palmer and Nicklaus began their round with most of the gallery of 9,140 following them.

The 61 was two strokes better than the best score Palmer and Nicklaus previously had posted as a team. "We both had the ball in close quite a lot," Palmer said. "We teamed very well."

Besides the first hole, [illegible] other birdies [illegible] about an eight-footer on four."

The world's astronomers are set to name three small craters on the front face of the moon for Neil Armstrong and Edwin Aldrin, the first men to walk on the moon, and for Michael Collins, their Apollo 11 comrade who orbited above them.

In a notable exercise in international cooperation, the astronomers also are scheduled to name features on the far side of the moon for the late Yuri Gagarin, the first man to fly in space, and several other dead and living Soviet cosmonauts, The Globe has learned.

Truman Accepts Jap Unconditional Surrender Ending Bloody Pacific War—Gen MacArthur to Receive Nippon's Capitulation for Allies; Joyous Hysteria Sweeps the United Nations

WE LOST 2 1000 DD MEN

By ERNEST BARCELLA

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14 (UP)—Peace came to the world tonight when President Truman announced that Japan has accepted unconditional surrender and Allied forces have been ordered to cease firing.

Gen Douglas MacArthur, "the man who came back," was named Supreme Allied Commander to receive the formal Japanese surrender.

World War II—bloodiest conflict in all of human history—was at an end, except for the formality of signing surrender documents.

[illegible] will [illegible] until after the instruments of surrender are signed.

The three Allies in the Pacific War—Great Britain, Russia and China will be represented at the signing by high ranking officers.

Mr. Truman made the glad tidings at 7 p. m. (EWT), shortly after he received Tokyo's formal reply to the Allied surrender terms.

Summoning reporters to his office, he read a statement which said:

"I deem this reply a full acceptance of the Potsdam Declaration which specified the unconditional surrender of Japan.

"In the reply there is no qualification."

Hirohito Blames Japan's Defeat on Atomic Bomb

A Domei despatch broadcast by the Tokio Radio said last night that Emperor Hirohito had told the Japanese people he felt it was "the enemy has begun to employ a new and most cruel bomb" and should Japan continue to fight "it would lead to the total extinction of human civilization."

The despatch was recorded by the Associated Press in New York.

"The enemy has begun to employ a new and most cruel bomb the power of which to do damage is indeed incalculable, taking the life of many innocent lives," the Emperor was quoted as saying.

"Should we continue to fight, it would not only result in an ultimate collapse of our nation and the annihilation of Japanese race, but also it would lead to the total extinction of human civilization."

Truman's Statement

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14 (AP)—[illegible] will be the text of President Truman's statement on the Japanese surrender:

I have received the Japanese message from the Japanese Government in reply to the message transmitted to them by the Swiss Government on Aug. 11.

I deem this reply a full acceptance of the Potsdam declaration which specifies the unconditional surrender of Japan. In the reply there is no qualification.

Arrangements are now being made for the formal signing of surrender terms at the earliest possible moment.

Gen Douglas MacArthur has been appointed the Supreme Allied Commander to receive the Japanese surrender.

Great Britain, Russia and China will be represented by high ranking officers.

Meanwhile, the Allied armed forces have been ordered to suspend offensive action.

The proclamation of V-J Day must wait upon the formal signing of the surrender terms by Japan.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO TODAY — The front page of The Globe of Aug. 15, 1945, tells that day's story—President Harry S Truman announced that the Japanese had accepted US terms for unconditional surrender and that Gen. including 120 in the California group — Could vote on challenges to their own delegations. When applied to California, the rules meant that McGovern would need only a 1433-vote majority to overrule the Credentials Committee and win the entire 271-member delegation.

But O'Brien also let it be known, citing past precedents, that the first credentials vote setting the precendent for all the rest would come on the South Carolina delegation challenge — not California.

This meant that South Carolina's 25 disputed delegates would be prohibited from voting, but all of the Californians could cast ballots on the first test. McGovern thus would need a majority of 1496 rather than 1433 to win on the precedent-setting rules word from O'Brien.

Convinced that this put McGovern within real striking distance of a first ballot nomination, his California partisans roamed the Miami Beach oceanfront hotels seeking to sway uncommitted delegates.

Said State Assemblyman John Burton of San Francisco, co-chairman of the California McGovern forces: "We're picking up votes from people who believe the credential challenge was unfair, improper and went against the rules of the party."

Gov. John J. Gilligan of Ohio, who put pressure on Muskie to pull his lieutenants out of the Stop-McGovern coalition and work for the South Dakota Senator, later told reporters that he and Gilligan, an early and prominent Muskie supporter, told yesterday that "he had a big role to play in this thing . . . Obviously he is in a very strategic position."

Gilligan hinted he even dangled the prospect of a vice presidential nomination before Muskie. He told newsmen it was obvious that if Muskie played the role of "pacifier, reconciler, the convention would take a good hard look at him."

McGovern himself, desperately seeking support on the California crunch, promised that if elected, he would appoint Negroes to the Supreme Court, the cabinet and federal regulatory agencies.

The exchange must certainly provide the apex of jurisprudential black humor: Gargan's Good-Soldier - Schweik-like willingness to tell everything keeps reasserting his innocence utterly.

"As parties go," Kennedy himself commented later on, "it was dull." They sand; a few couples danced a little. "It was just . . . just something to give one the chance to talk with those people.
