[REDACTED]

[REDACTED] MORRIS BARNEY DALITZ appeared before the Nevada Gaming Commission at a hearing held on April 23, 1969, concerning the sale of the Stardust Hotel to the Parvin-Dohrmann Corporation.

[REDACTED]

DALITZ was questioned as to the identities of the individuals in Parvin-Dohrmann who exercised authority and made decisions at the Stardust immediately subsequent to the sale of the Stardust.

DALITZ informed the gaming commission that insofar as he knew, DELBERT COLEMAN and WILLIAM SCOTT, President, Parvin-Dohrmann Corporation, were the persons exercising authority and made all decisions which were required of top level executives.

the gaming commission instructed Parvin-Dohrmann attorneys to submit applications no later than 5:00 PM, April 24, 1969, of all of the officials, directors and individuals who own 5% or more of the Parvin-Dohrmann stock to the Gaming Control Board so they could be investigated and if found qualified, licensed.

The following references on Morris B. Dalitz appear in the file captioned "Fur Dressing Investigation; Louis Buchalter, fugitive; Jacob Shapiro, fugitive; etal." Information was set out concerning the activities of Dalitz in connection with any contact he may have had with Buchalter and Shapiro during the period 1937 - 1939. These individuals became fugitives in 1936, and in August 1939 Buchwalter surrendered himself to the FBI. In an interview Dalitz stated that just prior to the disappearance of the fugitives they visited him in Cleveland. He also admitted that he saw them at Madison Square Garden, NYC in 1937, but denied that he had seen them since that time. He admitted that he was well acquainted with them during the prohibition era. During that period he made trips to Ohio, Virginia, Arkansas, New York, Mexico, and Washington, D.C.

Background information concerning Dalitz's racketeering activities was set out as early as 1930.

The following references in the file captioned "Reactivation of the Capone Gang," contain information concerning the activities of Morris Barney Dalitz. An intensive investigation was instituted in 1945 into the activities of key figure criminals, including Dalitz, in various parts of the country, to determine whether the Al Capone Gang was engaged in any Federal violation. Dalitz's activities, consisting of associations with numerous racketeers, racket and gambling enterprises, as well as legitimate enterprises in various parts of the country, were set out covering a period from the early 1930's to June 1947. There was no specific indication that Dalitz was associated with Capone. Dalitz, however, was friendly with remnants of the Capone Gang in Chicago as of approximately 1946.
