DEVELOPMENTS FROM INVESTIGATION

REPORT
REFERENCE

JOHN MORLEY,
% Capitol Life
Insurance Co.,
Denver, Colo.

Can testify that about 8 A. M. March 10, 1923, he was occupying a room at the Smith-Williams Hotel, Fairfax, Okla.; that at that time he had arisen, and, looking out of his bedroom window which faced south, he noticed a bright flame that flared up and died out rapidly two or three times; that this flame was located about two blocks southwest, almost south of where he was standing; that by its light he could see the gable of the north end of the house from which the flame appeared to be flaring; that the flame rose as high as this gable; that almost immediately the flame went out and a terrific explosion occurred which threw him back on his bed and broke the glass in his window; that he later went out and found that the explosion was at Bill Smith's house; and that the house was demolished and in flames.

Can testify that on March 10, 1923, at about 2:50 A. M. he was up with a sick member of his family when a terrific explosion occurred that shook and damaged his home, located two doors south of the then W. E. Smith home in Fairfax, Okla.; that he went out to investigate and found the Smith home demolished by the explosions and in flames; that he saw the mangled corpses of Mrs. Rita Smith and Nettie Brookshire recovered from the burning ruins, and the still living body of W. E. Smith rescued from the debris. Mr. McNew can also furnish the names of other neighbors who can testify substantially the same effect.

Can testify that on March 9, 1923, Lou Oller, intimate friend and associate of Bill Hale, sent from Fairfax, Okla., to W. K. Hale, Campbell, Texas, a telegram reading: "Deal stands good. I will go in the morning." Suspected that this telegram has reference to blowing up Smith's house. Can also testify that about 2 A. M. March 10, 1923, he heard what appeared to be a Ford car pass his house going south; that this car stopped at the south end of the block and a man got out and walked back north toward the Smith house; that about 2:35 A. M. this morning he heard a car going north at high rate of speed, and judging from sound it must have been a Ford.

Material.

Stated to Agent Wright that on one occasion, after the explosion, and just before his death, and when Smith was of sound and rational mind, Smith stated, in Shoun's presence, that Bill Hale and Ernest Burkhardt were the only enemies he had on earth that he could suspect of having blown up his home and that he did not want to accuse them of the deed, at that time for the reason that he had no proof and might be wrong. Shoun "thinks" and is quite positive that Jeff Hutchinson, son, D. E. Johnson, Henry Ward and Richard Crandall heard Smith make above statement.

Interviewed by Agent Burger on August 26
1925, at which time he stated that Smith came to his office a few days before Smith's home was blown up, and asked him for some protection, stating that Bill Hale owed him $7000, and refused to pay it and that he was going to bring suit

two or three days before the murder of Smith, Hale came to Frees' office and advised him that he owed Smith several ing to sue him; that if he did sue him and Frees wanted to serve him, to just call him on the phone; that Hale said:

"You know I cannot afford to be sued"
and remarked that Smith was a C-- S-- or a B--- for suing him.

CHARLES HAMBREE,

Fairfax, Okla.

Can testify that on the night of March 9 and early morning of March 10, 1925, he was coming home from Ralston, south of Fairfax; that about six miles from Fairfax he heard a heavy explosion in the direction of Fairfax, about 3 A. M.; that a minute or two later he saw the headlights and heard the roar of some big car coming south from Fairfax at a high speed; that he thought it was some drunken Indians, and turned off the road and stopped his truck with the headlights thereof pointing into the road, and lit; that the approaching car passed him at a high speed, and when it came into the light of his truck headlights he noted that there were two men in the front seat and the man driving was a stranger to him and had a small face; that the car had the curtains up, both headlights lit, and two "goose egg" side lights, and a light inside in the roof of the car; that the car passed him and he heard the screech of the brakes as it took the turn into Ralston a few seconds later. Hambree thinks he may recognise the driver if he ever sees him again, but is doubtful. He stated that he knew Kegsie Morrison well by sight, but could not say that he ever thought Kegsie Hettie was one of the three men he saw in the dark last night, although he was in the same place at the same time.

KELSIIE MORRISON.

It is alleged that Dr. A. H. Friedman, of Fairfax, saw Kelsie Morrison and one Powell, Morrison's brother-in-law, in the Silver Moon Cafe, Fairfax, between 11 and 12 o'clock, the night of the blow-up of Bill Smith's home, March 9, 1923; that Morrison was apparently drinking and that Morrison mentioned to Dr. Friedman that he had just come from Oklahoma City in an automobile, and had got taken the wrong road and was delayed in getting to Fairfax.

Conspirator.

Page 17. More on Kelsie con-fides in the State Penitentiary at McAlester, Okla.
for nine years. He unquestionably, in the judgment of the investigators, involved in the actual murder of several Indians as a conspirator with Ed Fincher, proprietor of the Silver Moon Page 16, Burdard boys, and the evidence at hand indicates that he is involved in the plot, is involved in the order of K. E. Smith.

Sam Tulk is alleged to have stated that he and Bob Parker saw Kelsie Morrison last year at Oklahoma City in the Federal Building, where he was attending Court, about 10 A.M. March 10, 1923; that Morrison had plenty of time to drive from Fairfax to Oklahoma City after the explosion which destroyed Bill Smith's home, as the trip could have been made in three or four hours in a good car.

H. L. Orme, Indian Agent, Tulsa, Okla., said 15 Bill used to have stated that last 1923, he saw Kelsie Morrison and Jimmie with him during morning or early afternoon, and that he had been
