In view of the above, San Francisco is of the opinion that additional investigation is not warranted at this time, however, this matter will be properly indexed for future reference. San Francisco is therefore placing this matter in a closed status.

SHERIFF'S POSSE COMITATUS
CONTRA COSTA COUNTY, CALIFORNIA

ALL INFORMATION CONTAINED
HEREIN IS UNCLASSIFIED
DATE 4-3-86 BY SP2TAP/pls

Investigation in this matter was predicated upon receipt of information [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] that there is an active Posse Comitatus group in Contra Costa County.

[REDACTED] stated that Posse Comitatus members interpret the constitution in their own manner. They see themselves as the last line of defense as the protectors of our national integrity. It is the posse's contention that the county government is the highest form of government. They believe that the Sheriff is the legal law enforcement officer. If the Sheriff is unable to, or refuses to, uphold the constitution, then it is the responsibility of the Posse Comitatus to carry out the Sheriff's sworn duties. The posse contends that it has the right to prosecute those persons committing unlawful acts by convening a citizens Grand Jury, issuing indictments, and making arrests.

Members believe in the right to bear arms. Contra Costa County posse members have worn bullet-proof vests, empty holsters and loaded clips in county courtrooms. The local posse has advised that they would carry arms into a federal courtroom. At a recent posse party, several members were carrying firearms. They are strongly opposed to the graduated income tax, congressional and executive regulatory agencies and personnel. The Internal Revenue Service is included on this list. It is the practice of the posse to file lawsuits against public officials to force them to "fulfill their constitutional duties". The local membership has filed several lawsuits against law enforcement personnel and agencies over the last year.
